Congratulations—you've been gifted a Hardback Book Membership to the Next Big Idea Club!

Curated by world-renowned thinkers Susan Cain, Malcolm Gladwell, Adam Grant, and Daniel Pink, the Next Big Idea Club is a nonfiction book club and learning platform dedicated to elevating big, life-changing ideas. Every season, our curators select two new, groundbreaking books, and we send them straight to your door. We also build original video e-courses to go with each one, so that you can enjoy the most fascinating insights and stories in less time. Whether the course is taught by a leading psychologist, a business executive, or a world-champion debater, you're sure to discover something new about working smarter and living better.

In addition, you receive unlimited access to the Next Big Idea App, where you'll find 15-minute "Book Bite" audio summaries—hundreds of them, in fact, all read by the authors themselves. The app also contains exclusive thought leader interviews, ad-free episodes of our LinkedIn-partnered podcast, and much more.

Finally, you're invited to join our members-only Facebook group at facebook.com/groups/nextbigideaclub, where you can discuss books and big ideas with fellow club members and participate in live conversations with authors and curators.

We're so glad you're here!
